Monthly Stock Fair.

Next Tuesday, December 11th, is the date of the regular monthly stock fair which will be held on the west side of this city on that day. John Bell has made the round among the merchants and has secured a number of prizes for the occasion which are as follows:

N. Rolland will give a $1.00 roast for the fastest sheep that is brought to the fair. Lawrence Shadkowsky will give one eighth of beef for the best sample of potatoes. Gross & Lyons will give a 50 pound sack of the best patent flour to the farmer bringing to their store the largest lot of fresh eggs. Packed eggs not accepted.

The Grand Rapids Brewing Co. will give one eighth of beer to the farmer bringing the largest number of empty kegs to the brewery.

Cohen Brothers will give a good pair of bed blankets to the farmer making the biggest purchase at their store.

G. W. Mason will give $1.00 to the farmer bringing in the largest turkey on fair day.

Stewart, Warner & Son will give a $1.00 roast to the farmer bringing in the best mutton on fair day.

Brandt & Foley will give one quart of Hoffman House Rye whiskey to the one bringing in the best team of horses for sale or trade on fair day.

Johnson & Hill Co. will give one sack of Loneola flour to the farmer bringing in the greatest number of pounds of separator butter on fair day.

Prizes will be awarded at three o'clock at the places where the produce is to be brought in. John Bell Sr., and Charles Daly, judges.

A number of fresh milk cows are wanted by parties in the city. There are also a number of good heavy work horses wanted. Don't forget the day. Next Tuesday, December 11.

Death of Frank Haskins.

B. F. Haskins, one of the old residents of Grand Rapids, died in Chicago at Augustana hospital on Thursday from cancer, after an illness extending over several months. Deceased was 68 years and had been a resident of this city for the past twenty-eight years.

Mr. Haskins became afflicted with a cancer on his chin last spring and as it gave him a great deal of trouble he went to the hospital at Chicago with the hope of obtaining relief, but in this he was unsuccessful, passing away on the 29th of November.

Mr. Haskins was never married but is survived by his mother and two sisters, the latter being Mrs. Wm. Magurn of Morris, Ill., and Mrs. Hanna of Stevens Point. His mother also resides at Morris with Mrs. Magurn. His two sisters and brother-in-law, J. E. Carey, accompanied the body here on Saturday.

The funeral was held on Saturday from the Methodist church. Rev. Sheard officiating, after which the local Grand Army post took charge of the body and held their ritual service at the cemetery. Mr. Haskins having been a member of a Wisconsin regiment during the civil war.

Change at the Badger Box Co.

J. S. Thompson has purchased the interest of E. W. Ellis and A. H. Stange in the Badger Box and Lumber Co., and will hereafter conduct the plant himself. The plant of the Badger Box and Lumber company has become quite an institution since its establishment in this city, and few people who have not visited the place realize the amount of work that is done there and the number of hands that are employed.

During an interview with Mr. Ellis last week that gentleman stated that it was his hope that things could be so arranged that he and Mr. Stange would continue in business in this city, but that no particulars of the matter could be given at that time. Our citizens are all with Mr. Ellis in this wish, and we hope to see him settled down here permanently in the near future.

Thirteen Meet Death.

Thirteen persons were killed in Wisconsin this year during the hunting season, the greater part of which, however, were killed by shot gun accidents, and in many cases the gun was in their own hands. The fatalities recorded in upper Michigan number fifteen.

Will Have a Good Show.

Secretary O. M. Renne of the Grand Rapids Poultry and Pet Stock association reports that he has received a large number of entries from parties out of the city for their poultry show which opens in this city today, and the indications are that there will be a much larger exhibition than was at first expected. He reports that the entries would have been even larger had the association got out its literature and premium list earlier in the season, so as to give poultry fanciers from out of town more time in which to prepare for the event.

Started a Restaurant.

John Quick and Mike Dolan have rented the Messier building near the St. Paul depot and it is their intention to open up a restaurant, cigar, tobacco and confectionary store. They will serve meals on short notice at all hours and request that the public give them a call when in need of anything in their line.

We care not how you suffered, nor what failed to cure you, Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea makes the painful, weakest specimen of man or womanhood strong and healthy. 35 cents. Johnson & Hill Co.

Huntington-Mahrner.

Miss Grace Huntington of this city and Dr. W. J. Fahrner of Joliet, Ill., were married in this city last Wednesday afternoon at six o'clock at St. Peter and Paul church, Rev. R. Hugenroth officiating. They were attended by Miss Edna Muir and Dr. M. Fahrner. The bride was very prettily dressed in white organza, and the bridesmaid in lavender. After the ceremony an elaborate supper was served at the home of the bride's parents to a few relatives and intimate friends, after which the happy couple left on a short bridal tour, after which they will make their home at Joliet, where the groom is located.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Huntington of this city and was a host of friends, being one of our brightest young ladies. The groom spent a few days in this city and his stay made many friends. The Tribune wishes with their many friends in extending congratulations and wishing them a long and happy wedded life.

Two Distinguished Visitors.

This Wednesday afternoon occurred the third meeting of the Federation of Women clubs at the residence of Mrs. J. S. Thompson. The meeting promises to be full of interest, owing to the presence of the two distinguished women who will be the guests of the day, Miss Sabina of Milwaukee Downer College and Mrs. A. E. McGree, landscape architect of St. Paul road. Both ladies will speak informally at the afternoon meeting, and at the evening meeting, to be held at the Lincoln High school.

Mrs. McGree will give a strong talk on the subject of city improvement following Miss Sabina's address on domestic science.

Miss Sabina is one of the foremost woman educators of the day and is well known to us on account of her connection with Milwaukee Downer.

Mrs. McGree is the vice president of the American Civic association and will tell us something of the work done in other cities in the way of beautifying and improving the streets and the laying out of parks.

The evening meeting will be free to the public and it is hoped that all those interested in this subject will attend.

What an Office Costs.

Below we give a list of the election expenses as filed by the various candidates at the last election, so far as they have been filed by the candidates, so if you want an office you can just look over the list and see whether it is a luxury within your reach or not. Some of them come high and some of them do not cost so much. Don't forget, however, that some of those enumerated were not elected.

Death of Mrs. Pellersells.

Mrs. Mary J. Pellersells died at her home in this city last Wednesday morning at an early hour, cause of death being paralysis, she having suffered a second stroke a short time ago.

Deceased was 74 years of age and has been a resident of Wood county and Grand Rapids during the past thirty-eight years. She was married to Henry Pellersells in 1868 and is survived by him.

The funeral services were held on Friday from the Methodist church, Rev. Sheard officiating, the remains being interred in Forest Hill cemetery.

Want a New Pier.

One of our business men has suggested, and probably with reason, that the city fathers look after the matter of erecting a new pier in the center of the river to act as an ice breaker to the bridge, the present one having apparently about reached the end of its career. He also suggested that when a new pier was constructed the city keep it for breaking ice exclusively and not as a support for advertising matter. He thinks that the present appearance of the pier is a disgrace to the city and that it would be as reasonable to tack advertisements all over the bridge.

Introducing a New Flour.

During the past week the Grand Rapids Milling Co., have been distributing among the people of our city sample loaves of bread made from a new flour that is being turned out at the mill. The flour has been named "Elisir" and is a whole wheat product and from the samples submitted it should become a popular brand among those who like this sort of flour. The company is sending out about two thousand loaves of the bread, the effort being to get it before every family in the city.

A Very Pleasant Affair.

The charity ball given by the Ellis on Friday evening was a great success both financially and socially. There was a good crowd in attendance and the Ellis cleared up the sum of $100 for their charity fund. The orchestra under the direction of Gerald Krissinger, furnished some very nice music, while the floor of the hall had been put in very good shape for dancing, and the amusement was kept up until a late hour.

BEELL IS CHAMPION

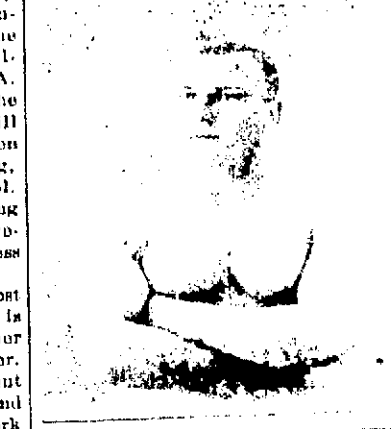

Wins the Title From Frank Gotch at New Orleans on Saturday Night.

Fred Beell, the Marshallfield wrestler, has again demonstrated his right to a place among the best in the world in the wrestling line on Saturday evening by defeating Frank Gotch of Iowa, who has held the title of champion of the United States for some time past.

The match was for the best two out of three falls and Beell won the first in 31 minutes and the last in one minute.

The telegraphic reports of the match are not very definite, but it appears that the first fall was Gotch's until Gotch happened to get a clutch hold on Beell and managed to put him down after thirty-one minutes of as hard wrestling as the audience ever saw.

When the two men came up for the second fall Beell seemed to be the fresher of the two and he made it in turning for his opponent all the way then, and along toward the last of it he picked Gotch up and landed him on his head and before he could recover himself, pinned him to the mat. Gotch was apparently out of the game, for he had to be carried to his dressing room and when he came on for the third bout it only took Beell one minute to get the last and deciding fall.

A later dispatch from New Orleans has the following to say concerning the match:

Frank Gotch, former champion of America at catch-as-catch-can style of wrestling, is pretty sore now at the loss of his title and honors to Fred Beell, the little Wisconsin wrestler. Gotch left New Orleans for his present home in Buffalo, but before leaving said he was more than eager to get a return match with Beell.

"An accident laid me out of the 'ring' and I didn't know anything after that. I guess it was an accident and I do not blame Beell for it. But it is such an affair that I am entitled to a chance to win back the laurels from him. I had one fall and could have attained another, I think. I was strong when the accident came and was not 'wilted,' as claimed."

Gotch further said Beell is one of the strongest men he ever had holds with and was much surprised at the closeness and power exhibited by the Marshallfield, Wis., man. The Beell party is quite a neat winner over the match, Beell's manager alone winning one bet of $400 from Gotch himself. Beell said he is not averse to giving Gotch another chance, but said the former champion will have to wait for a time.

The Missouri Athletic club of Kansas City last night offered a purse of $5000 for a match between Beell and Gotch in Kansas City December 17. Gotch is anxious to accept, but Beell is undecided.

In the match Saturday night at New Orleans Beell won. Gotch won the first fall in 31 minutes. Both men were out for blood during the second bout. Beell, who is as wiry as they make them, was full of tricks and his waiting game was actually tried by his opponent. Beell secured this fall in 39 minutes. When the third bout was called it was short and sweet. Beell tossed Gotch over the edge of the mat, the latter striking his head on the bare floor with a blow that rendered him unconscious. Gotch was carried out of the ring and restoratives applied. When he returned he was apparently dazed and Beell quickly took the winning falls.

Death of Mrs. Loomis.

Mrs. L. G. Loomis died at the home of her son, K. L. Thompson, on Sunday evening, death being attributable largely to old age. Deceased was ninety-four years old and was sick only a short time before her death. Besides the son living in this city she is survived by one other son, J. E. Thompson, who resides in Texas.

The funeral services occurred at the home on eighth street on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Sheard of the M. E. Church officiating.

Got a New Auto.

G. W. Davis received a new automobile on Tuesday, the machine being a Buick, manufactured at Jackson, Mich. The car is 22 horsepower, accommodates five passengers, runs by gasolene, is a 1907 model and is a dandy. Mr. Davis has not had a chance to try the machine yet, but there is no doubt but what it will give satisfaction.

University Courses.

The coming interests of the state and young men engaged in mining, will view with interest the establishment of correspondence courses by the University of Wisconsin in Geology.

The first of these courses are now prepared and ready for students. They are prepared by the geological department of the University, and include the following studies:

Mineralogy. A course of practical study of the common minerals. Typical sets of specimens will be sent out, with text and notes giving full instructions in the field without the use of chemicals or the microscope. The course will be useful especially to anyone interested in mining or mining districts. G. W. Corey.

Economic Geology. An elementary course in the principles of the geology of metallic ores and non-metallic economic minerals, each of which will be discussed under the heads: Distribution, geological relations, forms, extent, origin, and development. Special attention will not actually be directed to the lead, zinc, iron and copper deposits of Wisconsin. C. K. Lath and W. O. Holchuck.

Physical Geography. A treatment of the principles which control land forms, involving the study of various types of topography and their origin. The work involves: (1) Assigned readings and the preparation of papers and reports by the student; (2) Laboratory work on topographic and other maps and drawings sent out by the instructor or prepared by the student; (3) field work of physical nature in the vicinity where the study is carried on. The degree of advancement will be suited to teachers of Physical Geography and to general students having a high school knowledge of the subject. N. M. Fenneman and Lawrence Martin.

Put Up a New Water Gate.

During the first part of the week P. MacKinnon has had a new water gate placed on the west abutment of the bridge near the MacKinnon block, where it can be read by pedestrians as they pass across the bridge. The new gate is made out of a cypress plank twenty foot long, painted black with the initials and feet marked in raised white letters.

Last summer the chief of the weather bureau at LaCrosse was in the city and he noted the water gate on the gate breaker in the center of the river. Inquiry developed the fact that the gate had been put up and had been maintained by P. MacKinnon, and also that it had been in existence for a considerable number of years. The weather man interviewed Mr. MacKinnon and asked him when he got his start from to number the feet on the water gate, and Mr. MacKinnon explained that he had taken a couple of weeks from the job as a guide to go by in extremely low water, and after due consideration and considerable correspondence the weather man decided that it would be a good thing to maintain the gate and decided to use Mr. MacKinnon's mark as a basis for future reference. In accordance with this idea the government sent the cypress plank here and Mr. MacKinnon had it fixed up and placed in position.

The Price of Diamonds.

Diamonds are increasing in price right along, and dealers in gems do not seem to know where it is going to stop. During the past two years they have gone up 15 per cent in price, so that the man who bought a stone at that time has made good interest on his money besides having the diamond to wear all his life time. Another queer thing is the fact that as the price increased the demand also becomes greater and the consequence is that dealers who had a large stock of stones a number of years ago when the demand was rather light, are now disposing of them rapidly and getting an interest on their investment. The only man in Grand Rapids who is in the latter class is A. P. Hilly. He bought a good many diamonds about five years ago, when they were much cheaper than they are today, and as a consequence he has been able to give his customers some remarkable bargains in the line of diamonds for several years past, and he is still doing it.

If you are contemplating the purchase of a gem you should see him, as he has a number of gems of different sizes to select from.

Change in Time.

The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad company has changed the time on their night train going south, it now passing this point at 8:15 instead of 8:05 as heretofore. Connections are made at New Lisbon the same as before.

A change has also been made on the Wisconsin Central, the train that formerly passed thru here at 8:30 now going south at 2:08. No change has been made in the time of the other trains on this branch.

The Church and Our Country.

Dr. H. W. Carter of Detroit and Dr. Truman O. Douglas of Grinnell, Ia., will speak on the above subject in the Congregational church next Friday evening beginning at 8 o'clock. Admission free. All are cordially invited.

Mail Closes Earlier.

Owing to the change in time on the St. Paul railroad the night mail bound south will be closed at 7:30 hereafter. The train now leaves at 8:15, which makes the change necessary.

The People Pay.

Green Day Advocate: We have become accustomed to big things, but one hundred and fifty million dollar wedding is, nevertheless, a little startling. The great dailies have had much to say about it and none has failed to mention prominently the financial features that distinguish this from all other weddings. We may well ask ourselves: What does it mean?

The daughter of James J. Hill has married and the railway magnate has celebrated the occasion in a manner truly regal by issuing to the stockholders of his companies as a gift one hundred and fifty millions of stock for which they do not pay a penny.

A fine thing for the stockholders? Certainly. And as J. J. Hill has much the largest stockholder not a bad thing for J. J. H. and a good thing for his children and grand children, who may live in luxury without working. The sons may support yachts and autos and the daughters may buy dikes and castles near electric London and Paris by their lavish expenditures.

But who pays the freight? Ah, there's the rub. There's where you and I come in. Upon every dollar of this one hundred and fifty millions we who use the roads will have to pay dividends in order that the sons may sport autos and yachts and the daughters enclaves and dukes.

The stock was issued for the dividends and under the rate law as passed there is no measure for establishing a reasonable rate upon the capitalization of the companies of which this one hundred and fifty millions is a part, though it is demonstrably far too little.

But, you say, we do little business on these roads and this issue is no concern of ours.

Think a moment. J. J. Hill has set the example. He is the pioneer in this regard. He is the first to have celebrated the occasion of a family event at the expense of the tolls who by their industry have made him a multimillionaire and a magnate with the power to burden them at his will.

Think you others will fail to follow a precedent so alluring?

Already Harriman is considering the issue of two hundred and fifty millions to his stockholders—that is, to himself and the rest—which, like Hill's, will be purely fat.

It is not known that any wedding or other notable event is pending in Harriman's family, but he might celebrate his recent coup on Wall Street. It will be remembered that by suppressing information which belonged equally to every stockholder until it suited him to divulge it, he secured a large amount, said to be ten millions, thus placing himself upon the level of the gambler who wins with marked cards. Or if he pretends the public should celebrate this little coup by the oration given him by the Trans-Mississippi congress, the endorsement of the senate body of the ship subsidy scheme and the conversion of the administration, represented by the secretary of state, to that now backed upon the necks of the tollers. But we need not trouble ourselves to suggest subjects for celebration. He and all his kind, the railway kings and the trust moguls, can always make an excuse for the issue of a flat stock.

An aggregate of thousands of millions has already been issued and we rarely read a paper without finding the record of fresh issues. All of it a mortgage upon the wealth earned and yet to be earned by the great mass of tollers, land as well as mechanics and laborers. Not the issue, but the way of making the issue is unusual in Hill's case.

In olden times when the king's daughter wed, he snatched his subjects for her dowry and ransom. The American railway king has more real power than the old-time king. Why should not he tax his subjects, so long, at least, as he can control both party organizations and through them dictate legislation?

But how long will the people stand this robbery? When will they learn to drop their party labels and get together?

Would you end this great imposition, this wholesale robbery of the nation, this easy method of drawing the wealth of the people into the pockets of a few nabobs?

Then instruct your representative to leave no stone unturned to secure the passage at this time of congress of the La Follette amendment of the rate bill providing for a valuation by experts of the railways as the basis for reaching a reasonable rate.

If the people of each district would do this one great evil would be remedied. Wisconsin is a leader among the states.

OUR COUNTRY CORRESPONDENTS

RUDOLPH.

One of the best "Programs" of the season was under the supervision of Chester Greer, who is teaching in School District No. 5, was held last Wednesday evening. A large crowd assembled at the schoolhouse and many congratulations were extended to those who represented the character of "The Country of Milwaukee."

Master Gustave Olson represented the brave and daring Captain Miles Standish. Miss Anna McGregor represented the Puritan maiden Priscilla and Master George Fox represented John Allen the lover and winner of Priscilla. The second best of the program was a "Thanksgiving Song" sung by little Anna Johnston.

Miss Edith McGregor and Mr. Dustin of Grand Rapids attended the Thanksgiving dinner here.

Miss Grace and Ada Fox were shopping in Grand Rapids Saturday. Miss Tessie Slattery and Dora Johnson of Grand Rapids are visiting their parents during their vacation.

Miss Ada Fox spent Thanksgiving at Stevens Point. Tuffield Akoy and wife attended the Daily-Press wedding at Grand Rapids Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clark of Hancock spent Thanksgiving at the Thos. Bratton home.

Bert Lynn, our newly appointed station agent, has moved his family here from Babcock.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Preston of Shiocton visited with friends here last week.

The Thanksgiving dinner Wednesday was well attended and all report a splendid time.

Will Hamm returned Saturday from Taylor county where he had been hunting with the Loring boys. He secured two deer and a bear cub.

In praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

There is no other medicine manufactured that has received so much praise and so many expressions of gratitude as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is effective, and prompt relief follows its use. Graciously lent to its merits for the benefit of all, it is a certain cure for cough and will prevent the attack if given at the first appearance of the disease. It is pleasant to take and contains nothing injurious. Mr. E. A. Hunt, a well known resident and clerk in the store of Mr. E. Lock, of Alton, says: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to ward off cough and cold in my family. I found it to be very satisfactory and it gives me pleasure to recommend it." MECHAN.

Rather lonely at Moulton since Carl Nord departed from our midst.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lamberton from the western part of the state spent Thanksgiving with the latter's niece, Mrs. Frank Winkler and family.

Willie Borman returned last week from Wild Rose. He is taking some of buying a farm here.

M. H. Morgan visited his daughters Mrs. Jerry George of Nekeosa, and Mrs. Wm. Harvorn of Biran last week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Smart spent Thanksgiving with their son John and family at Stevens Point.

Clark Smith of Armenia is the guest of his sister Mrs. D. Parks and family.

Andrew Lutz has moved his old house down in Grant, where they will cut wood this winter.

The Thanksgiving party given by Orin Cleudening was well attended. An enjoyable time is reported by all.

SIGEL.

Frank Brosowicz and family departed last week for their new home in Hartford. Mr. Brosowicz has been a resident of Sigel for many years and they take with them the best wishes of a large number of friends.

Frank Sedall returned on Friday from a two weeks visit with his son John at Winona. He reports a good time and the arrival of a bonny baby boy at his son's home on Nov. 12th. On Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Sedall and son Edward and Fausin departed for a ten days visit in Chicago with their son Frank and daughter Rosa and Mr. Sedall's sister.

Passed Examination Successfully.

James Donahue, New Britain, Conn. writes: "I tried several kidney cures, but did not find any that improved me. I have since passed a rigid examination for life insurance. 'Foley's Kidney Cure' cures backache and all forms of kidney and bladder trouble." Daily Drug & Jewelry Co.

HANSEN.

W. J. Damerow moved his family and household goods to Arpin last week.

The local telephone station has been moved from the unoccupied W. H. Boon house to the farm of Arthur Boon until the arrival of W. H. Boon again for a permanency.

Mr. J. Lee, who lives in what is popularly termed Aldorf, has added to his flock of dairy cattle of late a tall blood Holstein Poland China cow.

Geo. Baxter moved his family and household goods into his new house on the 10th last week. This week he expects to get a barn under completion sufficiently to house his stock.

Mr. Baxter has a pleasant little place although it is off the main traveled highway and this goes to show what a little push and enterprise will do toward the comfort of the farm home.

No one seems to mention the re-establishment of the "Twilight Club" for entertainment during the winter months.

The farmers south of here are annoyed by the presence of a corn straggler in their midst. George Conklin owns the machine and is doing good work.

H. Zager took a turn at dahorning cattle in this neighborhood Sunday.

The Vesper correspondent to the Tribune hints at our wedding. In the Hansen house of knowledge, it's a good guess, anyway, and we are frank to admit the official supremacy of Vesper with her new dress (his?) there you and her new school house set on the big with the appearance of having been turned quarantined around by the last wind-storm. Honestly it's a shame to waste so many of Margatroid's nice new red brick on a building that looks like a steamed felt hat pulled to a peak.

Barbers about here are taking eager advantage of the new machinery recently installed in Vesper feed mill and oats and corn by the wagon loads await the grinding process each Monday.

The smiling pliz of Frank Otto was seen here one day last week.

Report has it that the Pittsville creamery company will soon start a cream route through this neighborhood. And the farmer sits behind his stove and chuckles at the competition which turns dollars into his pocket and saves him the trip during winter months.

L. C. Otto, John Mask, Herman Zager, and Gus Griesbach were Grand Rapids visitors last week.

Wm. Ehrlert has been appointed clerk of the school board to fill the unexpired term of Frank Otto.

George Albers and Wm. Dargie, of Thorpe visited relatives at Hansen last week.

PITTSVILLE.

Chas. Hoyer, of this city, and Aug. Hoyer, of Vedum, left for Milwaukee on Saturday to attend the funeral of their sister, Mrs. Krueger, who passed away on Friday.

Ash Fishbeck and Ed. Allen, who have been working for a dredging company at Winthrop, Minn., came home last Sunday to spend the winter with their families.

Chas. Fero is fixing up the Jencks building, getting it in shape for occupancy by Attorney J. O. Davis and E. S. Huchins. The former will have his law office there and the latter will open a real estate office.

Mrs. Mary Bonge and family have moved over from Grand Rapids to live with the former's daughter, Mrs. E. S. Huchins.

Dorothy A. Asplin left for his home at LaCrosse last week after working here for about a month in the interest of the Woolmen.

Fay West has resigned his position at the S. N. Baum creamery.

Miss Mabel Mitchell is employed as clerk at the S. N. Baum department store.

Mohr McLaughlin has purchased the Taylor place and Mrs. Taylor and daughters left for Nebraska on Friday.

Fred Dahlgard is working for S. N. Baum.

ARPIN.

Mrs. Joe Saville of Pittsville is visiting Arpin friends this week.

Misses Amelia Sobocel, Clara and Emma Johnson spent the Thanksgiving vacation at their homes in Sigel and Saratoga.

John Kinsinger of Marshfield spent Thanksgiving at Dwin Robinson's.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Winebrunner spent Thanksgiving day at the Rosman home in Marshfield.

Game Laws Disregarded.

Assemblyman Hall Brooks of Tomahawk in a recent interview in Milwaukee stated that hunters in northern Wisconsin had paid very little attention to the game laws and had killed deer regardless of the wardens or the laws regulating the game.

Also that pot hunters had killed many deer and that they laughed at the efforts of the warden to punish them for their offenses.

These facts are well known and have been for many years past. All woodsmen who come down from the north state that venison is scarce every month in the year at various lumber camps, the thing necessary being some person who cares to go out after the meat.

The outcome of the matter will be that it will not be many years before the deer are entirely cleaned out, and it will be done by the hunters themselves, who in their greedy pursuit of game, forget all else connected with the matter. As the hunters are the only ones affected by the matter we can see no reason why the rest of us should waste any time worrying about it.

Dissolution Notice.

The partnership that has heretofore existed between J. W. Natwick and Charles Carhart, has this day been dissolved by the mutual consent of the interested parties, and all persons who are indebted to the firm of Natwick & Carhart or who have accounts against said firm are hereby notified that J. W. Natwick has assumed the liabilities of the said firm and will pay all bills against said firm and collect any accounts owing to the firm.

Signed, J. W. Natwick, Charles Carhart.

Dated at Grand Rapids, Wis., Nov. 24, 1910.

Barber Shop Sold.

I. H. King has sold his barber shop on the west side to John Bell, who will operate the place with Frank Dudley in charge.

Mr. King is going to Tomahawk where he will take up a piece of land and go to farming.

Study Railroad Rates.

The relation of the railroad business to other branches of industrial life, particularly in connection with the regulation of railroad rates, has become such an important problem that the department of political economy of the University of Wisconsin has decided to offer correspondence courses to all who desire to make a thorough and systematic study of this question.

The rates of passenger and freight service is a matter of importance to all classes, and one with which agricultural, commercial, and manufacturing interests alike are concerned. By considering the problems of railroad charges, railroad capitalization, and methods of computing earnings and expenditures, the correspondence work undertakes to make clear the basis of rate regulation.

The growth of the present railroad system combinations, rates, fares, discriminations, long and short haul, group rates, the inter-point system, and import and export rates are some of the important topics to be treated. Attention is to be given to state and federal legislation, including the granger decision, and particularly to the inter-state commerce act, and the working of the inter-state commerce commission.

Regulation of railroad rates is so created historically and comparatively, that is, the granger movement and subsequent regulation are to be considered together with the government regulation in England, Canada, and France, and railroad organization in Germany and Italy. Such much discussed topics as private cars, rates, taxation of railroads, and government ownership and control form a part of the correspondence courses in transportation.

Labor Movement and Socialism.

Madison, Wis., Dec. 1.—The history and development of the labor movement and socialism will form the subject of correspondence instruction offered by the University of Wisconsin. The socialist criticism of the present economic system will be presented, together with the socialist movement in Germany, France, and the United States. There will be discussion of the Christian, Fabian, and other forms of socialism, and a review of the criticisms of socialist theories.

Finally the significance of the socialist appeal to the laboring classes is discussed.

The course of the labor movement begins with the study of the growth of labor unions, their policies and methods. Attention is given to the consideration of employment and the trend of wages, to the public activity in behalf of the workers. The history of the laboring classes before the nineteenth century, and the development and America are studied as a background for the descriptive survey of labor organizations of the present day. The various organizations formed by employers will also be given considerable attention. A most interesting phase of the course will be that dealing with strikes and their arbitration, and with collective bargaining and trade agreements. Methods of profit sharing and cooperation, success and failure under varying conditions labor legislation, machinery and labor, unemployment and immigration will be taken up.

Wausau Herald.—When Gen. Bragg gave out his interview in which he said there was no democratic party north of the Mason and Dixon line he must have overlooked the fact that the newly elected sheriff in Portage, Marathon, Wood, Taylor, Oneida, Lincoln, Price, Fond du Lac, Marquette, Chippewa, Green Lake, Oconto, Langlade, Ontonagon, Douglas and Washburn counties are all of democratic persuasion.

King of all Cough Medicines.

Mr. E. G. Case, a mail carrier of Canton Center, Conn., who has been in the U. S. Service for about sixteen years, says: "We have tried many cough medicines for my son, but Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is king of all and one to be relied upon every time. We also find it the best remedy for colds and coughs, giving certain relief and leaving no bad after effects." For sale by Daily Drug & Jewelry Co.

Danger in Asking Advice.

BOYS CLOTHING.

It is just as necessary to use your best judgment in selecting your childrens clothing as it is when you buy your own. There are many manufacturers, as well as dealers; who use little care in making or selecting Juvenile Needs, thinking perhaps that most anything will do for the little chaps. Now that's not our way. We use our best judgment always, and in our search thru the markets we have found a dependable line of Juvenile Clothing, good enough for us to guarantee, and that certainly shows our confidence, doesn't it? And now we want you to give us an opportunity to prove their good qualities. We can fit your boy the best suit or overcoat he has ever worn and the cost will be very moderate indeed.

Suits and Overcoats From $7.50 to $8.50

When you buy an "Extra Good" or "Best Ever" suit for your boys you can rest assured that the market affords none better and with the liberal guarantee back of them you risk nothing.

In its first report to the governor,
the state civil service commission declares that the merit system in Wisconsin has already operated to introduce large economy in the state service by giving to the state the entire time of the employees who otherwise would be doing much political work, by relieving heads of departments of the loss of time by reason of the pleadings of seekers for the pay roll of people sometimes placed there only for political reasons.
"The quickest, surest, nearest, fail. The scheme was worked out by Fire Chief George P. McGillan and Capt. John Conroy of the No. 1 company from a pointer received in a casual conversation, and is now in use in the Appleton Fire Department to the exclusion of all other methods.

The chief beauty of the plan is its simplicity and the ease with which it can be used by anyone. Simply saturate a large cloth with water, wind it around the stove pipe at any point where it is hot—the hotter
the better—and the steam generated inside the pipe will do the rest."

Wants to Operate Postal Ser- vice.

W. C. Boyce, a Chicago publisher has made an offer to take charge of the postal service of the United States and run it in the same manner as is done with other private corporations, to reduce the postage one-half and still make a profit, returning to the government all that is made over seven per cent on the investment.
He also proposes to pay to the government rent for its postoffice quarters and charge it regular rates for its postage.
Also to eliminate all sinecures and politics from the business, doing away with the political appointment of postmaster and all snap jobs where there is no good pay with nothing to do.
There is no question, but what a private corporation could run the mail service cheaper than is being done by the government, but it is doubtful if the people of the country care to try the scheme, as their experience in the past has not been such as would warrant them in making the change. We now have all the trucks we can handle with any degree of success, in fact we are a trifle overburdened with them, and with the mail service in the clutches of a monopoly we would be up against it in another way. We believe in trying the present system for a time yet at least.

Christmas Near at Hand.

Christmas only two weeks from next Tuesday. The average family man may not have realized how close this great festival is, but the younger members of the family have got it down pat and can tell you from day to day right where you are at. The merchants are also pretty well informed on the subject and many of them have already got out their display of holiday goods. Appearances indicate that most of them have laid in a pretty good stock of holiday novelties this year, and that the variety to choose from will be even better than usual.

Liquor Men Included.

The retail liquor dealers of this city have been notified to prepare for following the rules of the pure food law relative to liquors. The liquor dealers of this city however, have been making preparations for the same for some time.
The pure food law relative to the liquor dealers will go into effect on Jan. 1 next. The law requires that it shall be the duty of the liquor dealers to label every bottle from which liquor is sold at retail. The decanter that set on the back bar and from which whiskey is sold by the glass, or wines, etc., shall be labeled.
These labels must tell exactly the brand of the beverage. If it is pure, blended, adulterated, rye, corn or whatever it might be. The fine for the violation of this provision of the pure food law is heavy.
In addition to the labeling of the contents of the decanters and other vessels where whiskey is sold by the quart or pint each bottle must carry labels certifying to the fact that it is a full quart or a full pint. The majority of the bottles sold for quart really hold considerably less than one-fourth gallon. The law relative to the name of the liquor and the contents of the bottles and the amount is very strict and the fine is quite heavy.

Annual Bazar and Sale.

—The members of St. Catherine's Guild will hold their annual Bazar on Thursday, December 13th in the Wood County National Bank building. Many pretty and appropriate Christmas gifts, needle work, drawn work, embroidery and painting will be for sale. The Guild will also hold a Provision Sale, at which homemade jelly, pickles, preserves, cakes, bread, pies and candy will be sold. Everybody cordially invited to attend.

ROYAL Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

Healthful cream of tartar, derived solely from grapes, refined to absolute purity, is the active principle of every pound of Royal Baking

DOLLAR LEADERS

Dollars, like sheep, need a leader. A dollar deposited in the Savings Bank for a leader is soon followed by others until there is a nice
"flock of dollars" to your credit.

It is surprising how much easier it seems to save after the "Leader" gets the dollars started toward the bank. Try it.

AMONG CRANBERRY MEN.

EDITED BY W. H. FITCH.

(All communications and special exchanges relating to this department should be sent to Cranberry, Wood County, Wis.)

Something About High Prices. Wareham, Mass., Nov. 23.—Now that the cranberry crop is about all harvested, some interesting facts are being brought to light. It is a fact well established by thousands of tests that in order to have fruit of any kind keep, it should be gathered dry and with as little bruising as possible. It should be kept dry and cool and at a uniform temperature. Although these truths have been repeated more than a hundred times in the hearing of every one of our growers, they have failed to be appreciated in handling the berries. A good cranberry man blindfolded can be feeling the berries in the barrel, detect the berries that were gathered wet and put away wet and left in the crates to dry. If the sales company acts wisely in the future, it will not permit its berries to be placed on berries that have been kept wet any considerable length of time either in the field or in the crates, for the purpose of gathering, as was done this year by some of our best growers. While the berry is still growing and has internal vitality, it is able to heal its bruises and recover from other injuries to it; but when it is ripe its power of recuperation is gone, and any continued application of water to the skin of the fruit, if it is ripe, softens it and leaves it less able to resist the bacterial germs of rot and decay. Such berries may appear sound to the unsophisticated grower when he puts them in the barrel, but two weeks later, that grower would not recognize them as the berries he put upon the shelves. The following rules should be adapted and strictly enforced by the Sales Company next year:

The Sales Company's berries should not be placed on berries that had been exposed to rough handling and bruising.

Not on berries that were gathered wet and put away wet.

Not on berries gathered in the water even when put away dry.

The enforcement of these rules will place the Wisconsin cranberry on a par with the market as a good keeper and would place all of us in a position to secure more ready sales and better prices.

Cape Cod.

The cranberry bogs of Cape Cod are located in a range of glacial hills that are very similar to the Kettle Range in eastern Wisconsin. These hills are numerous and some of them are not generally high. When the hills are covered with ice and gravel and sand mixed promiscuously together, the marshes or cranberry bogs are in the "kettle holes" between these hills and are often less than an acre in extent. There are only 15 bogs report of more than 35 acres each, and only 3 or 4 of 100 acres or more. And yet the total yield of Cape Cod is nearly twice that of New Jersey and Wisconsin together.

Although the settlement of Cape Cod dates back to 1620, it strikes one with surprise to see what a very small part of it is under cultivation. One can drive through the woods for miles without seeing a house or a fence. The timber is mostly of the scrub kind and very similar to what we find growing on our own Kettle Range.

The line fences, roads and houses are not placed with any regard to the cardinal points of the compass, and a stranger traveling over this country without a compass, cannot on a dark day, keep his bearings. The winding roads leading to the cranberry bogs are very similar to our logging roads and without a compass or a guide one would easily get lost in this old settled country.

It would appear that all the land available for cranberry bog is now utilized and but little extension of the industry there can be looked for in the future.

Although it is a fact well known to our growers, that a frost in the first half of August may destroy the entire crop for the next season, they are liable to overlook the injury that later frosts may do to blossom-buds that are not yet matured.

Next spring when the water is drawn off, the intelligent cranberry grower will go in among his vines and inspect his blossom buds. He will find some of them destroyed, and will wonder what caused it. He will not be liable to suspect that it was done by a frost coming on late as September 20. But the conditions for growing were so favorable during the month of September that many buds failed to mature and ripen and he may think a frost coming as late as Sept. 20th could scarcely have been the cause.

A skilled cranberry grower can sit down among his vines and when he finds an injured blossom-bud he can usually always tell what happened, and when it happened, and how the mishap could have been prevented. A grower that cannot do this is deficient in skill and is lacking in capacity for close observation, and is not fit for the management of a cranberry bog.

Entertained at Cards.

Mrs. Geo. E. Haskinson entertained a party at her home on Tuesday evening in honor of her daughter, Mrs. E. M. Platt, there being about thirty present.

The evening was spent in playing progressive clinch and a prize was awarded to Mrs. L. A. Degener for having won the greatest number of games among the ladies, while Rev. C. B. Haskinson was the fortunate one among the gentlemen. At the conclusion of the card contest refreshments were served and the guests departed for home pronouncing the evening one of the most pleasant they had ever spent.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Judging from the Monday recitations every one enjoyed their Thanksgiving vacation.

Georgia Ridgman, a member of the class of '08, visited school Monday. Fred. Gillford of the Neokoma High school visited school Friday afternoon.

The Senior English class began the study of "King Lear" Tuesday.

Tuesday morning Sept. Youker gave us a short talk and he also read an essay on the harmfulness of cigarette smoking from the business man's point of view.

Thursday after school the Junior and Senior boys met in Mr. Hubbard's recitation room for the purpose of meeting officers of the Debating Club and also to hear the report of the committee on organization. The officers were elected and the constitution was adopted. The time of the first regular meeting was not decided on.

CRANBERRY.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Emmerich were Grand Rapids shoppers on Wednesday.

Interesting programs were well rendered at the school Wednesday and a goodly number of visitors were present.

Miss Edith Braderli, teacher of the north school took the 5 p. m. train Wednesday to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with her people at Grand Rapids.

Robert Rozin spent Wednesday at Grand Rapids.

John Smith, overseer of the Arpin's Co. marsh, has gone to the woods to run a camp for the Arpin Lib. Co. Mrs. Keyes and children left the first of the week for their home at Grand Rapids.

Hugh Olney, wife and baby were Thanksgiving visitors at the J. J. Emmerichs.

S. N. Whitley and wife spent Thanksgiving at the C. A. Jaspersen home at Port Edwards and the Sunday following at the H. F. Whitley home at Cranmoor.

Miss Bertha Demski spent several days last week at Grand Rapids, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Carey.

Mr. King took the late train Thursday for Chicago after a two months visit with her aunt, Mrs. Emmerich. Mrs. King expects to return soon and spend the winter here.

Misses Lillie Warner, Margaret Granger, Myra Kruger and Messrs. Gilman Warner, Eddie Kruger and John Zibel attended the dancing party at Babcock Thursday evening and report a good time.

August John, Will Zibel and Edward Kruger Jr., left last Saturday for Bruce where they will spend the winter in the Arpin Co.'s logging camp.

Miss Hermion Silverthorn of Waukegan was a Saturday guest of Mrs. E. F. Whitley.

Edward Kruger and S. N. Whitley had their work teams shod at Babcock on Monday.

Mrs. E. E. Warner, who was quite ill last week is somewhat better at this writing.

City Name on Postage Stamps.

Another innovation is planned by the postoffice department which is of considerable interest to all cities whose postoffice rank in the so-called presidential class. Commencing with next year all the postage stamps placed on sale at such offices will bear the name of the city which orders them also the name of the state in which such city is located. As there are about 6,000 of such cities and a separate and distinctive die will be necessary for the manufacture of the stamps issued according to each, it is plain to be seen that the new plan will involve considerable more work and some additional expense, but the department officials believe this will be more than justified by the benefits expected from operation of the plan.

Holiday Excursion Rates Via Green Bay & Western.

On Dec. 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 30, 31, 1906, and Jan. 1st, 1907, excursions will be sold by Green Bay and Western R. R. Co. to all points in Wisconsin, Illinois, Northern peninsula of Michigan, Iowa, Minnesota, the Dakotas and a number of other states, at fare and one-third for round trip. Tickets good for return to and including January 7, 1907. Children between ages of 6 and 12 will be charged half excursion rates. Above rates are the only excursion rates that will be given for holidays this year. There will be no students or teachers' rates; there will be no rates on children; and, and have a longer limit and, and every body has same privileges. No certificates will be issued and no "Map" will be needed. "Look at the Map" before you go, and call the G. B. & W. R. R. ticket office and any information will be given cheerfully and fully too.

Death of Mrs. Ray.

Mrs. John Ray died on Monday afternoon at five o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Dudley after a lengthy illness from cancer. Deceased was born in New York, but came to Wisconsin when she was a small child and has resided in Wood County for the past forty years. She was sixty-eight years of age and has lived here since 1881.

She is survived by five children, they being Albert Ray of Halder, Mrs. Frank Dudley and Mrs. Peter Love of this city, Mrs. Wm. Gardner of Spokane, Wash., and John Ray of Green Bay.

The funeral occurs this afternoon at two o'clock from the Methodist church, Rev. Sheard officiating.

RUDOLPH.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sharkey drove to Blauvelt last Sunday and attended the card party at J. A. Roy's home.

Mrs. A. Anderson of Rhinelander is a guest at the home of her mother, Mrs. Nels Laramie of the west side for a few weeks.

John Young, the west side painter and decorator finished a nice job of painting and decorating in John Hollmuller's saloon last week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Smith leave tomorrow for Atlanta, where they will reside for the winter. Mr. Smith having secured a position with the Arpin Lib. Co.

—Buying a diamond is better than placing your money in a savings bank. Hazy has an elegant line to select from, and they were bought before the raise.

F. W. Merrill of Babcock was in the city over Sunday to visit his wife. Mrs. Merrill has been at the hospital receiving treatment but is not staying with Mrs. Biddle.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kollege, who have made this city their home for many years, departed last week for Belvidere, Ill. where they will reside in the future.

Contractor, Louis Ule, who is employed at Eagle River, spent Thanksgiving with his family in this city. Mr. Ule brought two fine deer home with him.

Miss Viola Robinson of Hancock was in the city one day last week being on her way home from Stoughton where she had been hunting deer with her father. Miss Robinson shot two deer while out.

Mrs. J. V. Berens of Wild Rose, spent a few days during the past week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Fisher on Oak St. Mr. Berens was also in the city between trains on Thursday.

John Jarvis of Port Edwards completed a neat cottage in Port Edwards last week which he has rented to Dr. and Mrs. Chas. Passano. This makes four houses that Mr. Jarvis owns and rents in that prosperous village.

—Jewelry, cut glass, hand decorated china, diamond watches, clocks, sterling silver and musical instruments of all kinds can be found at Hazy's jewelry store next to the post office. A suitable gift for any member of the family. See his display before you buy.

The rendition of the Merchant of Venice at the opera house on Saturday evening was witnessed by a large audience and it was appreciated by all. The company are always thorough and our people are always ready to patronize a thing of this kind if they know it to be all right.

Dr. W. D. Harvie has bought the office fixtures of Dr. Provost of Oshkosh and has gone to the city to take charge of the place. He will engage in the practice of the eye, ear, nose and throat in his new location and the same as he has done here, and the Tribune takes pleasure in recommending the doctor to anybody who may need services in this line. The doctor's many friends in this city will be sorry to hear that he has decided to leave us, but he had been contemplating a change for some time past. Mr. Harvie and the children expect to remain in this city during the winter.

How to Save FUEL
Briefly—Buy a Cole's Hot Blast Coal Stove
It cuts the fuel bill in two because it burns the gas arising from burning coal. Gas goes via the chimney in other stoves. Cole's Hot Blast really makes $3.00 soft coal work like $9.00 hard coal. Come in and see that smokeless feed door. Does away with dust, dirt and smoke IN THE HOUSE.

Christmas Near at Hand.
Christmas only two weeks from next Tuesday. The average family man may not have realized how close this great festival is, but the younger members of the family have got it down pat and can tell you from day to day right when you are at. The merchants are also pretty well informed on the subject and many of them have already got out their display of holiday goods. Appearances indicate that most of them have laid in a pretty good stock of holiday novelties this year, and that the variety to choose from will be even better than usual.

Wants to Operate Postal Service.
W. O. Boyce, a Chicago publisher has made an offer to take charge of the postal service of the United States and run it in the same manner as is done with other private corporations, to reduce user postage one-half and still make a profit, returning to the government all that is made over seven per cent on the investment. He also proposes to pay to the government rent for its postoffice quarters and charge it regular rates for its postage. Also to eliminate all slotmeters and politics from the business, doing away with the political appointment of postmaster and all snap jobs where there is good pay with nothing to do. There is no question, but what a private corporation could run the mail service cheaper than is being done by the government, but it is doubtful if the people of the country care to try the scheme, as their experience in the past has not been such as would warrant them in making the change. We now have all the trusts we can handle with any degree of success, in fact we are a trifle overburdened with them, and with the mail service in the clutches of a monopoly we would be up against it in another way. We believe in trying the present system for a time yet at least.

ROYAL Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

Healthful cream of tartar, derived solely from grapes, refined to absolute purity, is the active principle of every pound of Royal Baking Powder.

Hence it is that Royal Baking Powder renders the food remarkable both for its fine flavor and healthfulness.

No alum, no phosphate—which are the principal elements of the so-called cheap baking powders—and which are derived from bones, rock and sulphuric acid.

DOLLAR LEADERS

Dollars, like sheep, need a leader. A dollar deposited in the Savings Bank for a leader is soon followed by others until there is a nice "flock of dollars" to your credit.

It is surprising how much easier it seems to save after the "leader" gets the dollars started toward the bank. Try it.
